ABSTRACT

This guide provides a brief description and ordering information for approximately 300 educational materials for grades K-12 on the subject of solid waste. The materials cover a variety of environmental issues and actions related to solid waste management. Entries are divided into five sections including audiovisual programs, books, magazines, publications, and songs. Each entry includes the resource title, author, publisher, publisher address and phone, publication year, audience, grade level, format, and short description. Audience entries include the general public, teachers, parents, 4-H leaders, businesses, government officials, community leaders, and waste management professionals. (LZ)
